

Unit
1

People

 NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC LEARNING

All babies can swim naturally. It is an instinct. Lots of parents go swimming with their babies, and those babies don't become scared of water when they are older.

Bringing the world to the classroom and the classroom to life

NGL.CENGAGE.COM/ELT

A PART OF CENGAGE

You will learn:

- ✦ to talk about people's appearances, feelings and preferences
- ✦ the present simple tense and adverbs of frequency
- ✦ sentence stress

In pairs, ask each other about your families.

- 1 How many people are there in your family?
- 2 What are their names?
- 3 Are you an only child? Do you have any brothers or sisters?

The crystal ball mystery: Where is Uncle Gordon?

1 Listen and read.

1/2

Bill: Welcome back to the island.

Mickey: Hi, Bill.

Suzy: Hello, Uncle Gordon. Nice to meet you, Aunt Kay.

Uncle Gordon: Meet my nephew and niece, dear.

Aunt Kay: Hi, I'm so happy to meet you.

The crystal ball mystery: Where is Uncle Gordon?

1 Listen and read.

1/2

Bill:

I like Uncle Gordon's wife. She's nice.

Uncle Gordon: I can't talk right now. Let's meet at the museum this afternoon.

Suzy:

Now I remember, I must call our stepfather and tell him we're here.

The crystal ball mystery: Where is Uncle Gordon?

1 Listen and read.

1/2

Bill:

Look Mickey, it's an old map of all the islands.

Mickey:

Please tell us about the map, Uncle Gordon.

Uncle Gordon: Later, Mickey. I'm going to the museum now to meet somebody. See you at seven for dinner.Aunt Kay:

Bye, dear. Don't be late!

The crystal ball mystery: Where is Uncle Gordon?

1 Listen and read.

1/2

Aunt Kay:

It's really strange. Your uncle is never late.

Bill:

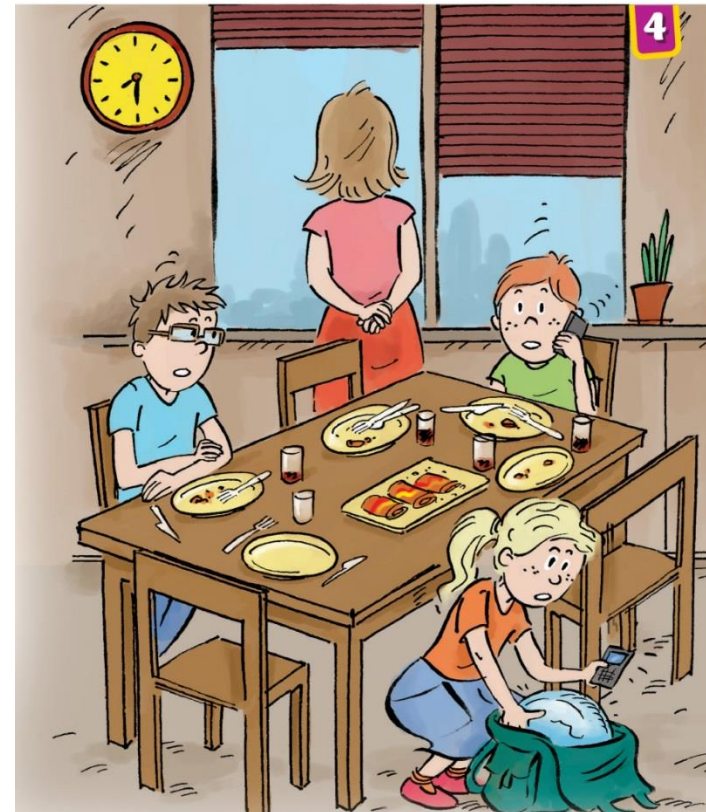

Where is Uncle Gordon?

Mickey:

He doesn't have his phone with him. There's no answer.

Suzy:

Look, his phone is here. And there's this. It's a crystal ball!

The crystal ball mystery: Where is Uncle Gordon?

1 Listen and read.

1/2

Suzy:

It's Uncle Gordon.

Mickey:

He's in trouble!